DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, filed October 25, 2005, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-6 under 35 Usc 102 and/or 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of a newly found prior art reference.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. Claims 1,2,3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wang (US 6,160,571).

Wang discloses a cable modem tuner (see Fig.2), comprising;

“a tuner portion” (38-66) for receiving input signals (from the front end) and amplifying

“a signal corresponding to a reception channel” (the output from the bandpass filter 112),

“a surface acoustic wave filter” (74) connected to an output of the tuner portion,

“a gain control and intermediate frequency amplifying circuit” (84) connected to an output of the surface acoustic wave filter,

“a lowpass filter” (90) connected to an output of the gain control and intermediate frequency amplifying circuit, and

“an output circuit” (92) connected to an output of the low pass filter for outputting balanced signals (see col. 5, lines 54-58, describing outputting of a differential signal, i.e., balanced signals, to the RX OUT1 and RX OUT2)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wang, as applied to claim 1 above, in view of Numanami et al (US 6,433,639 previously cited).

Wang all the subject matter claimed, as explained above, but fails to specify the exact circuit requirements for the “gain control and intermediate frequency amplifying circuit” as opposed to “a dual type MOSFET amplifying circuit” required in the claim. Numanami et al teaches a high frequency amplifier that includes a dual type MOSFET (7), see Fig.1, which provides amplification with reduced distortion, see col. 7, lines 19-35. Thus, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to include a dual type MOSFET as an amplifying element of the gain control and intermediate frequency amplifying circuit (120) of Birleson for the purpose of reducing distortion as taught by Numanami et al.

Allowable Subject Matter

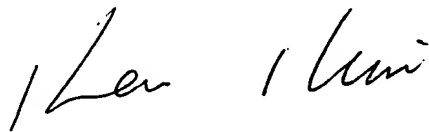

5. Claims 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
